Fight hunger

Erase your fines

Last August, the Jackson County Public Library Food for Fines programs netted these fines waived and items donated to the local food banks:

Seymour - $1,116.08 fines waived and 1,149 items donated

Crothersville - $669.95 fines waived and 699 items donated

Medora - $340.20 fines waived and 361 items donated

Total - $2,156.23 fines waived and 2,209 food items donated

The items are divided and taken to Human Services, Anchor House and Provisions. These food banks are very low on supplies of food for hungry individuals in our county.

Please donate food and waive fines. You can even do this for someone else. Then he or she can perhaps check out things from the library while others can eat!

Bring any non-perishable food donation to any Jackson County Public Library location.

1 non-perishable food item equals $1 or less in overdue charges forgiven.

Library cardholders with collection agency accounts may participate after paying the $10 collection agency account fee. All materials must be returned before the fines can be waived.

The Friends had a bumper crop of new Friends of the Library this quarter. As Board Secretary Nancy Kent says, "This oh-so-extremely worthwhile organization would like to thank the following new members who have chosen to join the membership ranks: Amber and Destiny Amick, Kevin and Sheryl Burke, Janet Hensen, Ginger Johnson, Marcia Monroe, Shirley Runge, Bessie Stokes, Toby Terry, and Glenna Walker, to name just a few. In addition, many have chosen to renew their memberships. Daryl and Darlene Bohall, Jim Dailey, Dianna Kaufman, Art Juergens and Norma Prewitt are a few representatives. If the Friends haven't had an opportunity to thank you in person, be assured that this action will make the library a better place for our community!"

Summer Reading Program
Now - July 31

The big May weekend sale in the Seymour Library Meeting Room and the June sale in the Book "Cellar" were both highly lucrative. Combined with the Nook proceeds and other ongoing fund raising projects, we have even more money to give to OUR library. At the last Friends board meeting, the board agreed to pay for a blues and ragtime piano player at Seymour this fall. Also, in an attempt to erase some of the damage that "evil" winter did to Crothersville and Medora, they agreed to replace trash cans and help fund other landscape tweaking.

The Friends are thankful for those who have donated or bought books from any sales this past quarter. The Friends also want to thank those who have recently helped by organizing donated books, preparing for sales or serving as our representatives at sales. The Friends believe that because of these people, this world is a better place.

The Friends want to ask this ever-so-important question, have you registered for the Jackson County Public Library summer reading program? If not, we recommend you do so immediately. If you've already done so, put this newsletter down immediately and check out a couple more literary gems. GO!!!!

Oh So Brave Dragon
BY DAVID KIRK

Most of us know children who are afraid of the dark or afraid to sleep alone. Other children are hesitant to talk to people in any given situation. The Oh So Brave Dragon by David Kirk is written in a way that helps children face their fears. A dragon and all of his friends face their fears by roaring together and scaring the monster away. David Kirk is the creator of Miss Spider and wrote the first Oh So book, Oh So Tiny Bunny. Visit him at davidkirktreehouse.com.

Camp Rex
BY MOLLY IDLE

This book is great for any camping trip or camping theme. It covers many aspects of a camping trip in a fun, easy reading way. Anyone that enjoys outdoor activities or fun dinosaur books should give this book a try. The author's family enjoys camping without dinosaurs, but they pack more marshmallows just in case. Molly Idle is also the author of Tea Rex. For more information about Ms. Idle and her books, please visit her at www.idleillustration.com.

Juvenile Fiction

Fly Away
BY PATRICIA
MACLACHLAN

Quite simply, this book is near perfection. Every chapter, paragraph, sentence, and word is artfully arranged and beautifully woven into this heart-warming story. Everyone has their song to sing, their picture to draw, their poem to write, their story to tell.

JPCL Staff Book Reviews Are Online

Young Adult

Half Bad
BY SALLY GREEN

Nathan is stuck between black witches and white witches. He has an indomitable will to survive, coupled with the ability to heal quickly. There are some pretty awful scenes of brutality that are well written and don't feel gratuitous. Some of the characters are pretty interesting, especially the fascinating Celia. Readers want to learn about the motivations behind these characters' behaviors and will want to finish this book. They will HATE waiting for the next installment.

This book has its pros and cons. On the negative side, it is written in first person with short, choppy sentences, and the story is a bit slow. On the positive side, it's a good story and this is part of a series where this second book may be more enjoyable than the first.

The Fault in Our Stars
BY JOHN GREEN

The relationship between Hazel and Augustus, two young people forced into adulthood before their time, is precious and poignant. The emotions they express are raw, real and easily recognizable by anyone who has cancer or has been close to someone with cancer. It's unapologetic in its honesty, difficult to read and impossible to put down. It is in the same vein as Jodi Piccolt's My Sister's Keeper and Nicolas Sparks' A Walk to Remember.
