Seymour Library Teen Area Expanded

Youth Services Assistant, or other staff members ensures that teens also have their research needs met.

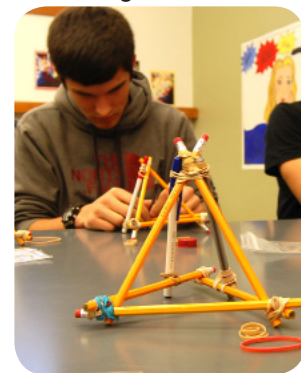

Electronic game players and games are available for sign out at this desk as well.

The concept for the teen room came from the Maker Movement sweeping across the nation in libraries and schools. This movement encourages people to discover what they enjoy doing by experimentation. The library is providing more materials, programs, and opportunities for teens to make something, create something, learn something. Whether it is knitting, coding, building or animating the library is committed to bringing these experiences to the Jackson County community.

Don't forget to check out the activities happening in the Teen Scene or Meeting Room. See page 7 for details.

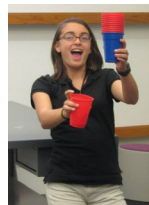

Many changes have been made to the teen area recently. Since librarians love when young people choose to spend time in the library, the idea was to give teens more space to hang out, collaborate on projects, play, read, use iPads, or personal tablets or laptops.

The Young Adult books, which are popular with adults as well, were moved outside of the Teen Scene. Now everyone has easy access to the latest trilogy or manga.

Inside the Teen room, space has been opened up for hanging out, playing Wii, PlayStation, or using the library iPads. Board games are also available.

Library Celebrates 110 Years on January 5

Seymour library collection dates back to 1857, when a new library room was completed and was ready for reception of new books. Seymour's Carnegie library opened on January 5, 1905 with 2,066 books and 988 registered users.

Circulation for the year topped out at 17,031. Library books could also be borrowed from city and township schoolrooms and the hospital in Seymour.

In 2013, the library owned 109,380 items, including 9,967 video materials and 182 magazine and newspaper subscriptions. 19,644 registered borrowers at the Seymour, Crothersville, and Medora libraries and on the Discovery Bus borrowed 340,588 items throughout the year, including 1,185 music, audio-book, or ebook downloads.

Newcomers Are ALWAYS Welcome at the Library's Regular Programs!

Many groups meet regularly for the learning experience, the time of relaxation and the fellowship of being with others.

The Fantastic Fiction book discussion group always has a good time at the Seymour Library program. You are invited to join them for their next conversation at 11 am on the third Friday of each month. Maxine Darlage & Lou Shollenberger coordinate this group's reading efforts and conversations.

Books by Night is led by Tim Decker and this group reads Pulitzer or other major prize-winning books. It meets bimonthly on the third Wednesday of each month, unless that falls too near a holiday!

The Crothersville Library's book discussion group meets at 6 pm on the second Wednesday evening of each month, and the Medora Library session is always the fourth Monday evening of each month at 6 pm.

Pick up your book for any discussion group at the library checkout desk where that program is held!

You can also be creative and learn or practice crafting things regularly at the Seymour Library. The Knit & Crochet night is at 6:30 pm on the second and fourth Thursday of each month. You just need a ball of worsted weight yarn and a J or K crochet hook, or size 7 or 8 knitting needles. Georgiana Coons leads this wonderful group.

Crafters meet at BEAD! To make jewelry and other items on the third Tuesday of each month. You can bring your supplies or try out this craft using the volunteer leader's supplies. She is social service coordinator Erin Ortman.

Write with some of the best writers around. You also may hear talks on writing and write items for critiquing by the group. Kathi Linz, experienced writer, leads this group. This group meets at 2 pm on a mid-month Saturday each month.

Yu-Gi-Oh players enjoy their cards together twice a week.

Youth Services sponsors a large number of regularly held fun and educational times for kids, including babies, toddlers, grade school and middle school ages, and teens. Look at this selection! Many are more than once a week to accommodate your schedule: Seymour Storytimes, Mother Goose & Me, Shake your Sillies Out, Toddler Time, Preschool Explorers, Babes & Tykes, Toddler Tales & Tunes, Preschool Power, Milk & Cookies Storytime, Weekend Builders, School-age programming, School-age Lit, Just for Teens, Middle Matters, and homeschool programming. Please feel free to help your children join these excellent programs.

The Crothersville and Medora Libraries both host monthly Children's Crafts, and there is a book discussion group meeting regularly at the Crothersville Library.

Please check out the details for any of these groups on pages 5-8 in this issue of the Browse.

FRIENDS OF THE LIBRARY

At the last Friends' Board Meeting, it was agreed to give the Jackson County Public Library up to $2,000 for the Summer Reading Program (Can you believe the staff is already preparing for this?) They also said they were happy to give the library $1,500 for the county-wide distribution of Rotary's "I Like Me" books, perhaps the first introduction to the magic of reading and the fascinations of our library to much of our population.

As announced in the last Browse, the Friends are revamping our sales in the new year. The sales will be held quarterly in the meeting room with expanded hours to match the space. The "all-a-bag-can-hold-for-only-$3" special will be in effect the final hour of each sale. The board members are really excited about the spacious "new digs" for the sales. They are "kicking around" other possibilities to enhance sale changes and welcome customer opinions, either on the Friends Facebook page or in person.

Anyone can become an official "Friends of the Library" member! Members can help the community for as little as $5 per year. Ask for an application form at the library, or go online at <http://web.myjclibrary.org/libraryInfo/friends/Join-theFriends.pdf>

Please keep donating those "gently used" books. Secretary Nancy Kent says, "They (and you) are Heaven sent."
