themes, characters and more!

Adults and teens are invited to read books and attend any or all of these free Jackson County Public Library book discussion groups. The books are available to check out at the library Checkout Desks.

- On the second Friday of each month, the Book's Night Out group meets in a restaurant to discuss their monthly book at 7 pm on a Friday. Everyone attending should bring money if they plan to eat.
- Fantastic Fiction talks over many kinds of novels on the third Friday of each month.
- The book discussion group at the Crothersville Library meets the third Wednesday at 6 pm.
- The Medora Library discussion group meets at 6 pm on the last Monday.
- The Seymour Library Books by Night group has interesting book conversations at 6 pm bimonthly on the fourth Wednesday.

Those interested in book discussion groups may call Information Services at 812-523-INFO (4636) or Outreach Services Manager Laurel Johnson at 812-405-1834 to find out more about joining a book discussion group at the Jackson County Public Library.

Many library programs require or prefer registration.
